Board of Supervisors

Subject: Addition of Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District to County Code and Related General Plan and Affordable Housing Ordinance Amendments

Members of the Board:

On June 5 your Board considered policy revisions to implement the Housing Rezoning Program contained in the Housing Element. At the conclusion of public testimony and a lengthy Board discussion, you approved the changes in-concept and directed staff to return with final wording for formal Board action at this time.

The attached materials reflect the Board's actions on the various policy proposals. In addition, as directed by the Board, staff has included a specific recommendation with regard to the amount of exterior storage provided for units that would not have garages (see 13.10.477(a) 3 vi). As well, we have included one additional general plan language modification for internal policy consistency (Policy 2.10.1). Finally, we have also included the various additional directions provided by the Board as part of the final actions on this item to ensure that they were properly understood.

Implementation of this key program of the Housing Element has and will continue to be a matter of public interest and debate. Nonetheless, the actions recommended in this letter will allow the County to proceed with the commitment that was made as part of the Housing Element -- to re-designate a minimum of 30 acres of infill sites in a manner that addresses the critical need for workforce housing in our community.

It is therefore RECOMMENDED that your Board take the following actions:

1. Adopt the attached Resolution (Attachment 1) approving:
  - a. the proposed General Plan/LCP amendments (as shown on Exhibit A to Attachment 1), effective outside the Coastal Zone immediately and inside the Coastal Zone once certified by the Coastal Commission; and
  - b. the proposed amendments to Chapter 13.10 (Exhibit B to Attachment 1) and forwarding those changes to the Coastal Commission;

2. Adopt the attached Ordinance (Attachment 2) amending Chapter 13.10, effective upon the 31st day outside the Coastal Zone and upon certification by the Coastal Commission in the Coastal Zone;
3. Adopt, as a second reading, the proposed ordinance amendments to Chapter 17.10 (Attachment 3);
4. Certify the CEQA Notices of Exemption for the General Plan and Chapter 13.10 amendments (Attachment 5) and the Chapter 17.10 amendments (Attachment 6) and direct the Clerk of the Board to file the CEQA exemptions;
5. Direct the Planning Department to forward the proposed amendments to the General Plan and Chapter 13.10 to the Coastal Commission for their consideration as part of the next Rounds package;
6. Direct staff to contract with a qualified outside firm to assist in the review of pro-formas from market-rate developers requesting financial assistance from the RDA as part of this program;
7. Direct staff to bring a future report to the Board on providing incentives for the incorporation of green building features as part of this program; and
8. Direct staff to report back to the Board on November 20, 2007 with options for expanding affordable housing opportunities in the rural areas of the County.

Sincerely,

Tom Burns
Planning Director

These areas shall be located where increased density can be accommodated by a full range of urban services and in locations near collector and arterial streets, transit service, and neighborhood, community, or regional shopping facilities. Housing types appropriate to the Urban High Density designation may include: small lot detached houses, "zero lot line" houses, duplexes, townhomes, garden apartments, mobile home parks, and congregate senior housing.

Policy 2.10.1 Minimum Parcel Size

Allow residential development at densities equivalent to 2,500 to 4,000 square feet of net developable parcel area per unit. Include increased density incentives for projects with a large percentage of very low or lower income housing and for senior housing projects in accordance with State law. For those sites in the "R Combining District, allow residential development at densities equivalent to 2,000 square feet of net developable parcel area per unit. (See section 2.11)

Ordinance No. _____

ORDINANCE ADDING COUNTY CODE SECTIONS 13.10.475, 13.10.476, 13.10.477, AND 13.10.478 TO CHAPTER 13.10 OF
THE SANTA CRUZ COUNTY CODE REGARDING THE
REGIONAL HOUSING NEED "R" COMBINING DISTRICT

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Santa Cruz ordains as follows:

SECTION I

The Santa Cruz County Code is hereby amended by adding Section 13.10.475 through 13.10.478 entitled "Regional Housing Need Combining District" to read as follows:

13.10.475 Purposes of the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District. The purpose of the Regional Housing Need " R Combining District is to increase the supply of affordable housing by designating sites for development at 20 units per acre in order to meet the requirements of the Regional Housing Needs Allocation as required by State Government Code Section 65584. Development projects on sites designated with the Regional Housing Need "R' Combining District shall be required to provide 40% of the units as affordable housing, as defined in section 17.10.030(b)(1) and 17.10.030(b)(6) of this Code.

13.10.476 Designation of the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District. The Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District shall only be applied to those parcels designated by the Board of Supervisors in advance of housing element adoption, as part of the housing element or as part of the implementation of housing element policies.

13.10.477 Use and development standards in the Regional Housing Need " R Combining District.

(a) Site Selection Criteria. For sites to be designated under the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District, the site must meet the following criteria:

1. Site must be identified by the County to satisfy the Regional Housing Need. A private landowner may not apply for designation under the Regional Housing Need " R Combining District without the concurrence of the Board of Supervisors prior to application.

(b) Development Standards

1. Density. Sites designated under the Regional Housing Need “R” Combining District shall be developed at 20 units per acre. For the purposes of calculating density under these provisions, the developable area of each site designated under the Regional Housing Need “R” Combining District shall be determined at the time the site is designated. Such developable acreage shall be calculated in accordance with 13.10.700-D definition of “Developable Land” and 13.10.700-S definition of “Site Area, Net” except that roadways and driveways shall be included in the developable acreage calculation for the purposes of determining net developable acreage. The number of potential units will be determined by multiplying the developable acreage by 20. Where such calculation results in a fractional number, the number of units shall be determined by rounding down to the nearest whole number.

2. Master Planning. Where contiguous or adjacent parcels are designated under the Regional Housing Need “R” Combining District, any development proposal for one parcel may be required to include a Master Plan for development of all contiguous or adjacent parcels which are also designated under the Regional Housing Need “R” Combining District. The purpose of the Master Plan is to define interior circulation patterns, exterior site access, fire access to all parcels, infrastructure improvements, common area location and amenities.

3. Incentives and Concessions. Development projects proposed under the Regional Housing Need Combining District will be entitled to all of the following alternative development standards:

- (i) Parking requirements: 1.5 spaces per studio or one bedroom units; 2.0 spaces for two bedroom; 2.5 spaces for three bedroom units; 3.0 spaces per 4 bedroom unit. An additional 20% of the total number of parking spaces is required to accommodate guest parking. Modifications of these standards can be approved for individual sites in the “R Combining District as part of an approved PUD for each site, based on unique site and design factors.
- (ii) Height (up to 35 feet measured from pre-construction natural grade) and up to 3 stories exclusive of subsurface parking. Modifications of these standards can be approved for individual sites in the “R” Combining District as part of an approved PUD for each site, based on unique site and design factors.
- (iii) Lot coverage and Floor Area Ratio do not apply; and

- (iv) Reduced size of affordable units (see 17.10.032(a)(4)), and reduction in number of bedrooms (see 17.10.032(a)(3)).
- (v) Clustering of affordable units.
- (vi) Where garages are provided for market rate units, garages are not required for affordable units, but in such cases affordable units shall have a minimum of 90 cubic feet of private storage space per unit which shall be accessed from the outside of the unit.
- (vii) Maintain standard riparian buffer but eliminate 10 foot additional riparian construction buffer.
- (viii) For projects eligible for concessions under State density bonus law, a project developer may request additional concessions as set forth in Chapter 17.12.

Combining District. All parcels shall be required to provide forty (40) percent of the total number of units as affordable: 15% shall be affordable under the requirements for all development projects in Chapter 17.10.030(b)(1) and an additional 25% shall be affordable under the requirements for Enhanced Affordable units as set forth in Chapter 17.10.030(b)(6). The number of affordable units for each affordability level shall be based upon the total acreage of a site. Where fractional numbers result, a fraction in lieu fee will be required for the fractional amount that is in excess of the 15% affordability requirement. For fractional numbers in the 25% Enhanced Affordable category, affordable housing obligation will be derived by rounding to the nearest whole number, such that 0.5 will be rounded up.

5. Encourage energy efficiency, and environmentally sensitive design and building materials.

13.10.478 Bv-Right Development. When required by State law, notwithstanding the requirements of the residential uses chart in Section 13.10.322, in the event that the current adopted Housing Element includes a program to rezone sites to appropriate densities to address the inadequacy of suitably zoned sites required to meet the Regional Housing Need, those sites identified to fulfill that program shall be developed by-right, in that the use and density for the site are not discretionary. For these sites, following standards and alternative process shall also apply:

- (a) The developable acreage of the site will be determined and the site will be assigned a number of units equivalent to 20 units per acre at the time the site is designated under the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District.

(b) Environmental review, as required by the California Environmental Quality Act, will be completed as part of the process for rezoning of such sites into the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District. No further environmental review is necessary except for development projects requiring a Coastal Permit or those requiring approval of a tentative map (see 13.10.478(e)(1) and (e)(2) below).

(c) A Planned Unit Development permit outlining site specific development standards and any CEQA mitigation measures will be adopted, in accordance with Section 18.10.180 et seq., for each site at the time the site is rezoned.

(d) Development proposals shall undergo a Design Review process and public hearing limited to design issues only. No discretionary permit is necessary for the density or use of the site. For development proposals under these "by-right" provisions, applicants must apply for a Level VII design review.

(e) If a Coastal Permit or tentative map approval is required, they must be included in the application.

(1) Coastal Permit Requirements. Where a site is located in the Coastal Zone and requires a Coastal Permit for development, the provisions of Chapter 13.20 apply. Wherever possible, the environmental review performed at the time the site was designated under the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District will be utilized in the processing of the Coastal Permit.

(2) Subdivisions. Development that includes approval of a Tentative Map is subject to the provisions of the Subdivision Map Act and Chapter 14.01. Where a tentative map is proposed, the public hearing may be expanded to address findings necessary under the Subdivision Map Act. Wherever possible the environmental review performed at the time the site was designated under the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District will be utilized in the processing of the subdivision.

SECTION II

This Ordinance shall take effect on the 31st day after the date of final passage outside the Coastal Zone and upon certification by the California Coastal Commission within the Coastal Zone.

- (iii) Lot coverage and Floor Area Ratio do not apply; and

- (iv) Reduced size of affordable units (see 17.10.032(a)(4)), and reduction in number of bedrooms (see 17.10.032(a)(3)).
- (v) Clustering of affordable units,
- (vi) Where garages are provided for market rate units, garages are not required for affordable units, but in such cases affordable units shall have a minimum of 90 cubic feet of private storage space per unit which shall be accessed from the outside of the unit,
- (vii) Maintain standard riparian buffer but eliminate 10 foot additional riparian construction buffer,

All development proposals on parcels designated under the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District shall be required to provide forty (40) percent of the total number of units as affordable: 15% shall be affordable under the requirements for all development projects in Chapter 17.10.030(b)(1) and an additional 25% shall be affordable under the requirements for Enhanced Affordable units as described Chapter 17.10.030(b)(6). The number of affordable units at each affordability level will be calculated upon determination of the developable acreage of a site. Where fractional numbers result, a fractional in lieu fee will be required for the fractional amount that is attributable to the 15% affordability requirement. For fractional numbers in the 25% Enhanced Affordable category, affordable housing obligation will be derived by rounding to the nearest whole number, such that 0.5 will be rounded up.

(3) Rental Price. The maximum allowable rental price for affordable housing units created pursuant to 17.10.030(b)(1) shall be limited to be affordable to lower income households unless otherwise required to be affordable to very low income households in order for the project to qualify for bonus zoning density pursuant to Chapter 17.12 of this Code and/or public funding programs. ## SECTION V

Subdivision (a) of Section 17.10.032 of the Santa Cruz County Code "Affordable Unit Standards." is hereby amended to read as follows:

(a) Affordable Unit Standards. Except as otherwise defined in 13.10.477(b)(3) for projects in the Regional Housing Need " R Combining District, affordable dwelling units may include reduced interior amenities compared to the market rate units provided that the affordable units comply with all requirements in the Affordable Housing Guidelines as well as the following standards:

■ Unit location. The affordable dwelling units shall be distributed throughout the development project. This distribution requirement may only be waived by the decision-making body upon a finding that such distribution is infeasible for one or more of the following reasons:

- (i) Significant topographic or other constraints exist rendering such distribution infeasible; or
- (ii) Substantially improved site design will result from such waiver; or
- (iii) Substantially improved building design and an approved unit amenity level will result from such waiver; or

In addition, the size of affordable units shall be reasonably consistent with the rest of the project, with an affordable unit size not less than seventy-five (75) percent of the average size of market rate units, except that all affordable units in the Regional Housing Need " R Combining District shall not be less than seventy (70) percent of the average size of the market rate units, unless a smaller unit size is allowed by the decision-making body at the time of project approval and with the written findings that a smaller size will provide adequate and decent affordable housing, the affordable units will provide housing units compatible with the remainder of the development, and that a larger unit size would impose a financial hardship on the project developer. In no case shall an affordable unit size be less than the minimum specified by the Affordable Housing Guidelines.

17.10.030 Inclusionary housing requirements for residential development projects.

(a) Projects Subject to Inclusionary Housing Requirements. The following residential development projects consisting of the construction of new dwelling units and/or the creation of new parcels intended for permanent residential occupancy shall be subject to the inclusionary housing requirements of this chapter:

(1) Residential Project at One Location. An application for a residential development at one location, whether to be constructed at one time or in phases, shall be subject to the requirements of this chapter if it will result in the creation of:

(A) Five or more new dwelling units;

(B) Parcels providing building sites for a total of five or more new dwelling units;
or

(C) A combination of new dwelling units and parcels together providing for a total of five or more new dwelling units.

For purposes of this paragraph, “one location” shall include all adjacent parcels of land owned or controlled by the applicant, the property lines of which are contiguous at any point, or the property lines of which are separated only by a public or private street, road, or other public or private right-of-way, or separated only by the lands owned or controlled by the applicant.

(2) Concurrent Adjacent Residential Projects. Applications for concurrent adjacent residential developments which together will result in the creation of five or more new dwelling units, parcels providing building sites for a total of five or more new dwelling units, or a combination of new dwelling units and parcels together providing for a total of five or more new dwelling units, developed by applicants on adjacent properties either at one time or in phases shall be subject to the requirements of this chapter. For purposes of this paragraph: "adjacent properties" shall include all adjacent parcels of land owned or controlled by the applicants, the property lines of which are contiguous at any point, or the property lines of which are separated only by a public or private street, road, or other public or private right-of-way, or separated only by the lands owned or controlled by the applicants; and "concurrent" applications shall include all applications which have been submitted and are concurrently being processed for action by the County. If the property ownership and application for one project contain no parties in whole or in part, or their spouses, who are also a party to the property ownership and application of the concurrent adjacent development, the concurrent applications may be granted an exception to the affordable housing requirements imposed by this chapter upon a showing satisfactory to the decision-making body that neither project receives direct financial benefit by virtue of the concurrent adjacent development.

(3) Sequential Adjacent Residential Projects. Applications by the same owner or applicant for sequential adjacent residential developments which together will result in the creation of five or more new dwelling units, parcels providing building sites for a total of five or more new dwelling units, or a combination of new dwelling units and parcels together providing for a total of five or more new dwelling units, developed on the same or adjacent properties either at one time or in phases shall be subject to the requirements of this chapter. For purposes of this paragraph: "same owner or applicant" shall include any person who participates in the development as a full or partial owner or applicant, or a spouse of such person; "adjacent properties" shall include all adjacent parcels of land owned or controlled by the owner and/or applicant, the property lines of which are contiguous at any point, or the property lines of which are separated only by a public or private street, road, or other public or private right-of-way, or separated only by the lands owned or controlled by the owner and/or applicant; and "sequential" projects shall include all projects for which applications have been submitted to the County within a period of ten (10) years.

(b) Inclusionary Housing Requirement. The affordable housing obligation for any project identified in subsection (a) of this section shall be calculated by multiplying the number of new dwelling units or new residential building sites by the affordable housing percentage for the type of project, as specified below. Projects which generate an affordable housing obligation of less than a whole unit or a fractional amount more than a whole unit(s) shall contribute funds equivalent to the fractional amount above or below a whole unit to the Measure J Trust Fund, as specified in Section 17.10.034(b) of this chapter. The project developer may elect to construct additional affordable unit(s) instead of paying the fractional fee. Those projects which generate an affordable housing obligation equivalent to a whole unit or units of affordable housing shall construct the affordable dwelling unit(s) within the project pursuant to the requirements of Section 17.10.032 of this chapter, or alternately, shall meet the affordable housing requirement through the options provided in subsection (c) of this section:

(1) Standard Development. Standard development projects shall include the construction of affordable dwelling units equivalent in number to a minimum of fifteen (15) percent of the total number of new dwelling units and new undeveloped residential building sites in the project;

(2) Bonus Density Development. Development projects qualifying for bonus zoning density pursuant to Chapter 17.12 of this Code shall designate the affordable dwelling units;

(3) Priority Processing Development. Development projects qualifying for priority processing shall meet the requirements of Section 17.10.040 (Standard Priority Processing) by the construction of affordable dwelling units equivalent in number to a minimum of twenty-five (25) percent of the total number of new dwelling units and new undeveloped residential building sites in the project; or development projects which are developed with bonus density and include the construction of affordable dwelling units equivalent in number to a minimum of thirty-five (35) percent of the total number of new dwelling units and new undeveloped residential building sites in the project before the density bonus is applied shall be entitled to priority processing;

(4) Congregate Senior Housing Development. Congregate Senior Housing development projects developed pursuant to Section 13.10.324 of this Code shall designate affordable congregate care units equivalent in number to a minimum of thirty-five (35) percent of the total number of congregate care units in the project;

(5) Non-residential to Residential Rezoning and/or General Plan Amendment. Non-residential parcels which as a result of a rezoning and/or General Plan Amendment are rezoned or designated as residential shall be required to provide forty (40) percent of the total number of units as affordable in accordance with Section 13.10.215(a)(1) of this Code, except that rezonings into the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District per Section 13.10.475 through 13.10.478 of this Code are exempt from this requirement. A minimum of one-half of the affordable units shall be affordable to below average (lower) income households. All affordable units must be constructed on-site. Development under these provisions shall only qualify for incentives and concessions relating to site standards as identified in Section 17.12.040 of this Code but are not eligible for additional Density Bonus units. If the calculation of the affordable housing obligation under subsection (b) of this section results in any fractional obligation above a whole unit, the project developer shall contribute funds equivalent to the fractional amount to the Measure J Trust Fund as provided in Section 17.10.034 of this chapter. No alternative options for satisfying the affordable requirement is allowed.

(6) Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District.

(iii) Notwithstanding subsections (i) and (ii) above, in the event that a Developer believes that the affordable housing requirements for a project proposed for a site designated in the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District renders the project financially infeasible, the developer may request relief from a proportional amount of the affordability requirements. That request shall be submitted to the Planning Director with all supporting information, including the development pro forma for the project. The Planning Director shall analyze that request and make suitable recommendations to the Board of Supervisors. In the event that the Board finds that the developer has provided evidence that fulfillment of the affordable housing requirements renders the project financially infeasible, the Board shall grant an increase in the allowed unit resale price, above the price restrictions contained in Sections 17.10.030(b)(1) and 17.10.030(b)(6), in an amount equal to that required to render the project financially feasible. In the event that such price modifications are granted, the developer shall grant the County Redevelopment Agency the option to purchase units at the revised sales price for the purpose of writing them down to suitable levels of affordability.

(iv) All affordable units must be constructed on-site.

(v) Developments under these provisions are eligible for concessions relating to site standards as identified in County Code Section 13.10.477(b)3.

(vi) Developments under these provisions are eligible for incentives and concessions relating to site standards as identified in County Code Section 17.12.040 where the percentage of affordable units provided exceeds 40%, but are not eligible for additional Density Bonus units.

(vii) No alternative options, including those set forth in subsection (c) for satisfying the affordable housing requirement are allowed for projects within the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District.

(c) Alternative Options to Satisfy Inclusionary Housing Requirement. As an alternative to the construction of each affordable dwelling unit within a project as required pursuant to subsection (b)(1) of this section, the affordable housing requirements of this chapter may be satisfied by one or a combination of the following options:

(1) Payment of an in-lieu fee pursuant to Section 17.10.034 of this chapter in place of constructing a required affordable dwelling unit;

(2) Participation in the Existing Unit Conversion Program pursuant to Section 17.10.037 of this chapter; or

(3) Financial contribution to a non-profit sponsored affordable housing project pursuant to Section 17.10.036 of this chapter in place of constructing a required affordable dwelling unit on-site. Where an applicant proposes to satisfy the affordable housing requirement through participation with a non-profit housing developer for the construction of affordable residential units on a different site, the affordable unit requirement shall be based on the total number of new dwelling units and new undeveloped residential building sites included at both sites.

Use of these alternative options requires approval by the Approving Body at the time of the development approval.

(d) Unit Affordability Requirements.

(1) Term of Restrictions. Affordable ownership and rental units shall be subject to the requirements of this chapter for the life of the unit.

(2) Sales Price. The maximum allowable sales price for ~~all affordable~~ housing units created pursuant to 17.10.030(b)(1) ~~the requirements of this section shall~~ be limited to be affordable to moderate income households, unless otherwise required to be affordable to lower income or very low income households in order for the project to qualify for bonus zoning density pursuant to Chapter 17.12 of this Code and/or public funding programs. For affordable units in the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District, the Enhanced Affordable units shall have a maximum allowable rental price shall be limited to be which is affordable to Enhanced Low income households unless otherwise required to be affordable at a lower income level. The County shall establish maximum allowable affordable unit rental prices pursuant to the pricing guidelines in the Affordable Housing Guidelines adopted by the Board of Supervisors.

For units developed pursuant to 17.10.030(b)(1), the income and assets of owner-occupant households shall not exceed the limits for a moderate income household, and for tenant households shall not exceed the limits for a lower income household, unless more stringent limits are required in order for the project to qualify for bonus zoning density pursuant to Chapter 17.12 of this Code and/or public funding programs. For Enhanced Affordable units (17.10.030(b)(6)), the income and assets of owner-occupant households shall not exceed the limits for an Enhanced Moderate income household, and for tenant households, shall not exceed the limits for an Enhanced Low income household, unless more stringent limits are required by funding sources. 2. Parcel Size. The parcels on which the affordable units are located shall be no smaller than the smallest parcel on which market rate units in the project are to be located.

3. Bedroom Count. The average bedroom count in the affordable units shall not be less than the average bedroom count in the market rate units in the project. Affordable units located in projects in the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District, shall be allowed to average 0.5 of a bedroom less than the average number of bedrooms in the market rate units.

4. Exterior Design. The exterior design of the affordable units shall be consistent with the market rate units in the development based on exterior design details, materials and number of stories, with no significant identifiable differences between the units visible from the street. In addition, the size of affordable units shall be reasonably consistent with the rest of the project, with an affordable unit size not less than seventy-five (75) percent of the average size of market rate units, except that all affordable units in the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District shall not be less than seventy (70) percent of the average size of the market rate units, unless a smaller unit size is allowed by the decision-making body at the time of project approval and with the written findings that a smaller size will provide adequate and decent affordable housing, the affordable units will provide housing units compatible with the remainder of the development, and that a larger unit size would impose a financial hardship on the project developer. In no case shall an affordable unit size be less than the minimum specified by the Affordable Housing Guidelines.

(b) Timing of Completion. Affordable units shall be made available for occupancy either prior to or concurrently with the date that the market rate units in a project are made available for occupancy, and in the same ratio as the affordable unit requirement which is applicable to the project. For example, for a project with a twenty-five (25) percent affordable housing requirement, at least one affordable unit shall receive final Building Permit inspection clearances concurrently with or prior to the final clearance of every third market rate unit constructed in the project until all of the affordable housing units required in the project have been constructed. For a project with a fifteen (15) percent affordable housing requirement, at least one affordable unit shall receive final Building Permit inspection clearances concurrently with or prior to the final clearance of every sixth market rate unit constructed in the project until all of the affordable housing units required in the project have been constructed. In no case shall the last market rate unit in the project receive final Building Permit inspection clearances until the last affordable unit in the project has received final Building Permit clearance.

(c) Recording of Declaration of Restrictions. Prior to the issuance of a Building Permit for an affordable dwelling unit, the property owner having authority to encumber the property and any existing holders of trust deeds on the property shall sign an Affordable Housing Program Declaration of Restrictions which subjects the affordable unit to the requirements of this Chapter and the County's Affordable Housing Guidelines, both as amended from time to time, including the specific ownership and occupancy restrictions established for the units pursuant to Section 17.10.030(d). The Declaration of Restrictions shall be permanently binding on the heirs, assigns and successors in interest of the property owner, and shall be recorded in the Official Records of Santa Cruz County. (Ord. 4509, 8/25/98; Ord. 4662 § 4, 4/23/02)

17.10.070 Ownership unit requirements.

(a) The owner of an affordable ownership unit, on its sale or resale, shall sell the unit to an average or below average income household for a price mutually agreed upon by the buyer and seller provided that this price is not in excess of the maximum sales price set according to the provisions contained in the Affordable Housing Guidelines.

(b) Prior to offering a unit for sale, the owner shall send a written Notice of Intent to Sell to the administering agency.

The administering agency will then notify the owner of the current maximum sales price. Prior to the close of the sale, the owner shall notify the administering agency of the proposed sale price and the administering agency shall review the proposed sale to assure conformance with this chapter and with the Affordable Housing Guidelines.

(c) Upon the sale of an affordable housing unit, the purchaser shall be required to enter into a new Affordable Housing Declaration of Restrictions which incorporates all current policies contained within the Affordable Housing Ordinance and Affordable Housing Guidelines.

(d) Closing costs and title insurance shall be paid pursuant to the custom and practice in the County of Santa Cruz at the time of opening of escrow. No charges or fees shall be imposed by the seller on the purchaser of an affordable unit which are in addition to or more than charges imposed upon purchasers of market rate unit, except for administrative fees charged by the administering agency established in the Affordable Housing Guidelines.

(e) The purchaser of an ownership affordable unit shall verify in a form acceptable to the County that the unit is being purchased for the purchaser's primary place of residence, and that if this unit ceases to function as his or her primary residence, it will either be sold according to the requirements of this chapter or rented to an eligible below average income household as certified by the administering agency in accordance with the requirements of Subsection 17.10.050 (c) and (d) below.

(f) The following transfers of title or any interest therein shall not be treated as a sale or resale under the provisions of this section provided, however, that the Affordable Housing Restrictions shall continue to run with the title to said unit following such transfers:

(1) Transfers by gift, devise or inheritance to the purchaser-owner's spouse or children, or

(2) Transfers of title to a spouse as part of a divorce or dissolution proceeding, or

(3) Acquisition of title or interest therein in conjunction with marriage, or

(4) Acquisition of the unit by an employer pursuant to an employer sponsored relocation program, and subsequent sale by the employer to an eligible purchaser or the County. In order for this exception to be applied, a new Affordable Housing Declaration of Restrictions shall be recorded, both when the employer acquires the unit and when the unit is sold to an eligible purchaser. No rental of the unit is permitted pursuant to this exception.

(g) The Board of Supervisors may provide, by resolution for a shared equity option, to allow the builder and purchasers of affordable ownership units to share in the ownership of such units. (Ord. 3002, 10/28/80; 3234, 5/18/82; 3329,

1 ¶23/82; 3502, 3/6/84; 3802, 12/16/86; 3881, 12/15/87; 4081, 10/16/90; 4425, 8/13/96; Ord. 4755 § 5, 1/27/04)

17.10.080 Eligibility for rent or purchase.

(a) The County shall establish, by resolution, income requirements for average or below average income households; asset requirements for purchasers or renters of affordable units; and formulas for establishing maximum housing unit monthly rents and maximum sales prices. In establishing levels of very low, below average and average household income, the County shall consider median household income and household size. The County may adopt additional administrative guidelines as necessary to provide for additional eligibility criteria, or to assure affordability of units.

(b) The administering agency shall review the assets and income of prospective purchasers and renters of affordable units and shall inform them of the requirements of this program.

The textual changes to the zoning ordinance are necessary to implement the County's Housing Element that was recently certified by the California Department of Housing and Community Development.

CEQA review was performed when the Board of Supervisors adopted the Housing Element and a Negative Declaration was prepared and was not legally challenged. At the time specific sites are rezoned, each will undergo CEQA review as part of that process. Because the current ordinance amendments consist solely of textual changes to the County's zoning ordinance, are not applied to any particular property, and will cause no change in the physical environment, staff has determined that this action does not constitute a project. Dear Honorable Board Member,

Concerning Item 36 on June 12, 2007 Agenda :Continued Consideration of the Addition of the Regional Housing Need " R Combining District to the County Code and Related General Plan/LCP and Affordable Housing Ordinance Amendments Necessary to Implement the Rezoning Program of the County's Housing Element

APPRECIATION FROM A SOMEWHAT INFORMED LANDOWNER AND EXPRESSION OF CONCERNS.

Not enough people thank you for the the time, energy and insightful deliberation you week upon week put into the job of representing us, the Community of Santa Cruz, County, and in representing greater humanity . After sitting through just the consideration of the Affordable Housing Ordinance , I have been reminded of the dedication you give back to us

Due to the late receipt of the 60 pages, I was not able to digest and respond to the County materials in the one work day following receipt of the staff report, not even mailed to me until May 31th . So that you have the now more considered insight of an 'experienced' landowner who will be among those most financially effected by your deliberations on this affordable housing 'maiden and pioneering' proposed ordinance, I now submit additional comments.

None of the effected landowners I have met have any similarity to the William Faulkner portrayed Flem Snopes. None I have encountered are like the untransformed Scrooge , inclined to put greed ahead of what is right. Most all did not buy nor continue owning these selected lands with the conscious thought of large profits. I know when nearly 50 years ago my mom and dad bought our 4 acres on 7th, the idea of large profits from Real Estate did not even much exist in Santa Cruz County. They bought because friends owned it and wanted to retire. My parents thought it was an opportunity to secure what was then rural property for the our families future growth.

As you know from my past letters, my own immediate ancestors were homeless and at times jobless as a result of the 1929 crash, and had a very hard life during the depression. Starting as young children we were taught to appreciate the plight of those temporarily less well .

However, no matter how much we empathize with those of us who are in need of assistance, I cannot let myself 'give away' or have taken away by a potentially financially devastating ordinance , one of the major family assets my father and mother gave their lives in an attempt to leave to their children and grandchildren more secure than they were.

We are worried about what might be the financial impact on us and other of the landowners who have been singled out as those who must relieve the County of Santa Cruz [ and Planning Department] from not just the Saldana judgement, but from the failed housing and land use policies of the last 30 years.

Even though I wish our land had not been chosen ,since there are so many unanswered questions and thus I must reserve my full legal rights to , if necessary, challenge this ordinance in court, I am somewhat excited about working on setting the 'tone' and 'benchmark ' for a successful joinder of private and public participation in providing affordable housing and market rate housing. Someone needs to show the ' nearness' of low income is not a death knell to a landowners desire to protect his family's existing and future financial security.

I am an optimist. I was raised to be one. I do though have some fears about this project. I wish the county had been given more time to do a 'proper' environmental assessment and financial analysis of its effects on landowners before the ordinance got so far. The legal opinion that an environmental assessment [ EIR under CEQA ] need not be done may have been appropriate when the proposal was elective and the properties not "selected" but with the conversion of the proposal to a mandatory designation, the 'correctness' of the 'no EIR opinion seems very shaky. As I believe the Ritchey properties and the other properties have been selected, I need to ask the county to comply with its own and state law. To assert the properties have not been selected is a fiction and , if this were an ordinance not pressed upon the County by Saldana, we would not be subjected to, and the County would not even suggest, such a smoke screen. The Saldana deadlines and consequences of not meeting them are what is driving not only this 'no EIR fiction and indeed, the entire ordinance with its 'form only' review .

I also remain concerned about the 'forced sale' nature of the ordinance and the setting of price by the County, who clearly is "the buyer." That is a difficult concept to accept. No matter how it is spun, it is well recognized that, in this proposal, the landowner, developer, may be, [likely will be] coming to the County 'hat in hand' and it is the County that will be saying ' here is the price we will pay you to bail you out from the requirement of 40% low cost that we are forcing upon you. ' I have already been approached by Tax Exempt Associations wanting to buy our land and move forward under the ordinance. No private developer has dropped a "will you sell" letter in my post box. It will be the government forcing the landowner to build such an admittedly shaky project - or to sell - and telling the landowner/developer what the buyer, the government, will pay in the forced sale, if the landowner wants relief from this financially threatening ordinance that only allows land be developed of a project that provides at least 40% affordable housing, at a density of 20 units per acre. This is unsettling.

Even though I wish I was not going to be forced to risk my childrens' financial future, and assuming the County will not do an EIR, I will commit to attempting to make the Ritchey participation as environmentally friendly as we can financially justify. We will do our part to set a good standard for the future. Few, if any, successful developers will want to build cheap affordable housing or allow others to build it, assuming a profit and non-profit jointly develop. I know that on our family land, to allow this to have a chance of financial sanity, it is likely affordable will have to be built in close proximity to the market rate units. To risk building ugly or cheap affordable units would destroy the chances of selling the market rate units for any 'market rate' price. To have even an ugly, cheap, shoddy clustered affordable element anywhere on our land would surely draw down the price for which the market rate housing could be sold. Market rate owners do not want to buy into nor live near a ghetto. There is simply no possibility that a 'cheap/shoddy' product and a market rate product will be built or participated in by us. Owners/Developers would be negatively impacting the market rate sales by having shoddy affordable units. We will be racking our creative brains to figure out how to build the best affordable units possible. The tone for the entire street, certainly our property, will be set by the affordable units, not the other way around.

Quality will not be lessened by a smaller size of the affordable units. Making it smaller does not mean it will not be quality and quality is usually not a function of size. In fact, in my experience of participating as an active partner in the acquisition of raw land and construction and sales of nearly 50 SFR in Seaside and Santa Cruz, 'compactness' has increased the possibility of building quality, efficient and environmentally friendly homes. If one were to build a low quality 'ghetto appearing' product, such a person will not be able to sell the market rate units for what will be needed for an economically successful project.

We/you will not get everything right in this ordinance. It is being rushed. Even if not rushed, everything would not be 'gotten right.' This is 'the first' the beginning. You are helping to set a standard for the future. As you go through your additional deliberations, please remind yourselves, this is the first. You, we, cannot now be all foreseeing. Your staff has given a great amount of consideration to this but there will be and should be modifications as you and we learn. Hopefully this beginning will lead to an "evolving" legacy, left to future landowners, that 'proximity' of different economic strata need not to be financially, emotionally or environmentally feared. My family and I have protected and nourished the environment and will continue to do so. We have been stewards of this land and others. Carefully use our land. There is only so much land and only one earth. We must not waste what we now have on ego driven size 'homes that must be our castles.' We will do what we can to insure this land is wisely used, so my children's children and their children look with pride at how we responded to a community, state and even wider obligation to assist those temporarily less fortunate. I hope the greater part of the obligation is not carried mostly by us few who are about to be forced to dedicate their land and security to relieve the County from, as Saldana argued, planning failures of the last 30 years.

That brings me to another point I did not have time to make at the hearing. I am a minimalist of sorts. My family and I, [me, my wife and two children] live in a 1,600 Sq Ft 78 year old home. We live on beautiful old farm land that today has no value as a farm and which only has value as "land." While we at times have wished we had more room in our house, we have lived a good life, sometimes camping outside 'under' the stars that are becoming more difficult to see as our skies become opaque due to Global Warming, warming partly due to the extravagance of our society. Not living in an 'ego Castle' has helped make us a closer family. We appreciate knowing our life style is not significantly contributing to the degradation of our world. We heat our house with a wood stove only, sometimes assisted by a space heater near my side of the bed, in the winter, as my arthritis becomes more active and as I get older. Neither my family or I ever think we live in an inferior house, even though we know it is not a big house.

I ask that you not force landowners and developers build affordable housing of a size driven by the egos or false needs of 'the rich'. There is only a limited amount of land in Santa Cruz, and even less that can be dedicated to what should be transitional housing for those temporarily in need. Assisted or subsidized housing should be transitional, not an end point. As those who now need a helping hand benefit from assistance, quality schooling for their children and better work opportunities, they will hopefully become able to afford larger or more grand housing. If that is what they feel is needed in life, they should be encouraged to move and let someone else move in. Because land is so precious in Santa Cruz, what affordable assisted housing is made available should be 'recycled' and not seen as a stopping point. If, as the assisted family grows financially and 'in numbers' they come to believe size, not quality is necessary to a good life, hopefully they will move on and let another family take their place in assisted housing.

In the 1950s, when I was a teen ager, in 1960 when I was in college and 1970's when I came back from my unique 4 years of serving my county overseas, homes were, on the average, much smaller than today. The home size then did not limit the joy of home ownership my parents were finally able to experience nor the quality of life they and the community provided me and my brothers. It is not the size of the home that should matter, it is the quality of life and opportunities available that should be the measure of what is needed. My parents taught me that the quality of life need not be a function of 'living up the Jones'. The quality of life is not to be externally determined by what others have; it is what I have made of myself and given back to my parents, to my wife and children, to my community, and humanity.

Because I was given so much, I will do what I can to make a success of this historic moment. Please do not begrudge me that I hope it financially works out the best we can make it for my family. I hope those I help assist will be able to do the same one day for their children and the children of the earth. They do not need to live in mini-grand palaces to give the love and opportunities - the good life- to their children that my parents and the community gave me. The supply of land is limited; the amount of family love, educational and employment opportunities need not be. As the 'first man' of a president of a local PTA, and as the recipient of family love and educational opportunities, I have come to know what in life is most needed and not even one of them is 'a large house'. It is adequate housing, opportunities for education and the ability to earn a living sufficient for my needs and the needs of my family.

Thank you helping provide for the needs of those who temporarily do not have the means to provide for one of their families basic needs, which is decent housing. Quality/decent housing is not synonymous with large houses. As those we assist 'move up', they can move up in home size as well, if they want, but they should be encouraged to move up from/out of assisted or subsidized housing. If at some point they want to live in house like the Jones, they should do so on their own and let another 'temporarily in need' take their place in the very limited supply of subsidized quality housing.

Honorable Supervisors:

In the creation of the "R" combining district, one question is: is this in compliance with the State "By Right" Building law? and, I am curious to see if the high inclusionary element will actually produce the affordable units intended, in future.

In reviewing the Regional Housing Need "R" Combining District, ordinance, I have two housekeeping comments:

1) On Friday late morning/early afternoon when attempting to access this agenda packet and others on today's agenda, the "link" was missing. I called the office of the Clerk of the Board, and apparently, they were unaware of this omission. In keeping with providing information to the public, this is very important that access be available in a timely fashion, for legal and informational purposes. I do not know when it became available as I did not check it again until today. I realize this is just an oversight and the Clerk of the Board is amazing at the work they do to produce these agenda packets. However, for the sake of NOTICE, I wanted to address this issue.

2) Page 10, Exhibit B (middle of the page) is not readable. Again, we do need the complete document for review and public access.

Thank you for your consideration and full review of this ordinance.

POLICY 2.10.1 AND POLICY 8.6.3, AND ADDITION OF POLICY 2.10.6

GENERAL PLAN AMENDMENTS

AMEND:

Objective 2.10 Urban High Density Residential Designation (R-UH)

To provide higher density residential development (10.9 to 17.4 units per net developable acre, except for those sites in the "R" Combining District where the density would be 20 units per net developable acre) in areas within the Urban Services Line (USL). These areas shall be located where increased density can be accommodated by a full range of urban services and in locations near collector and arterial streets, transit service, and neighborhood, community, or regional shopping facilities. Housing types appropriate to the Urban High Density designation may include: small lot detached houses, "zero lot line" houses, duplexes, townhomes, garden apartments, mobile home parks, and congregate senior housing.

Urban Very Low	1.0 – 4.3 units per acre	10,000 sf – 1 acre
Urban Low	4.4 – 7.2 units per acre	6,000 sf – 10,000 sf
Urban Medium	7.3 – 10.8 units per acre	4,000 sf – 6,000 sf
Urban High	10.9 – 17.4 <sup>4</sup> units per acre	2,500 <sup>5</sup> sf – 4,000 sf

<sup>2</sup> All lot sizes are square feet of net developable parcel area per unit. Refer to the Glossary for a definition of net developable area.

Policy 2.10.1 Minimum Parcel Size

Allow residential development at densities equivalent to 2,500 to 4,000 square feet of net developable parcel area per unit. Include increased density incentives for projects with a large percentage of very low or lower income housing and for senior housing projects in accordance with State law. For those sites in the "R" Combining District, allow residential development at densities equivalent to 2,000 square feet of net developable parcel area per unit. (See section 2.11)

Policy 8.6.3 Story Limitation

Residential structures shall be limited to two stories in the urban areas and on parcels smaller than one acre in the rural areas except where explicitly stated in the Residential Site and Development Standards ordinance or Combining District site standards.
