STATEMENT OF QUALIFICATIONS:

I have been involved in the Women and Leadership Task Force of the Women's Commission and am very interested in becoming further involved. Work / Family Policy and the interaction between feminism and public policy was the topic of my senior research paper at UCSC. While researching and writing this paper I found myself faced with challenging questions about how the feminist movement can redefine itself to be meaningful to new generations of young women and how the movement can stay politically effective. I am very interested in exploring these topics at the local level.
